

Shop Smart Market Report

Our picks from the city's top designers and craftsmen

Black & White

Hand-carved block prints from local artisan Stacey Bradley of Perla Anne add texture and bold forms to any wall when hung on their own (at right) or grouped together (previous page). $20 each, perlaanne.com

Sleek Seat

Joseph Thompson Woodworks spends up to three months making chairs by hand (like this armchair) and then finishes with oil and beeswax. $2,500, jtwwoodworks.com

Material Girl

Equally inspired by her tropical Lowcountry surroundings, the Art Nouveau movement, and all things geometric, textile whiz Cameron Blazer (AKA The Cottage Industrialist) prints vintage-flavored designs on organic cotton, canvas, and hemp. $48-68 per yard, cottage-industrialist.com

Trash to Treasure

Fisher Recycling's recipe of epoxy and glass (or oyster shells) yields one batch of sweet—and eco-friendly—trays, perfect for serving cheese and other treats. $15 and up, fisherrecycling.com

Fire Starter Warm up with this handcrafted copper-finished fire basket by Charleston blacksmith Sean Ahern. Price on request, ahernsanvil.com
